Background reading

The Trojan War, fought between the Greeks and the defenders of the city of Troy in Anatolia sometime in the late Bronze Age, has grabbed the imagination for millennia. A conflict between the Mycenaeans and Hittites may well have occurred, but its representation in epic literature such as Homer's Iliad is almost certainly more myth than reality. Nevertheless, it has defined and shaped the way ancient Greek culture has been viewed right up to the 21st century CE. The story of gods and heroic warriors is perhaps one of the richest single surviving sources from antiquity and offers insights into the warfare, religion, customs, and attitudes of the ancient Greeks.

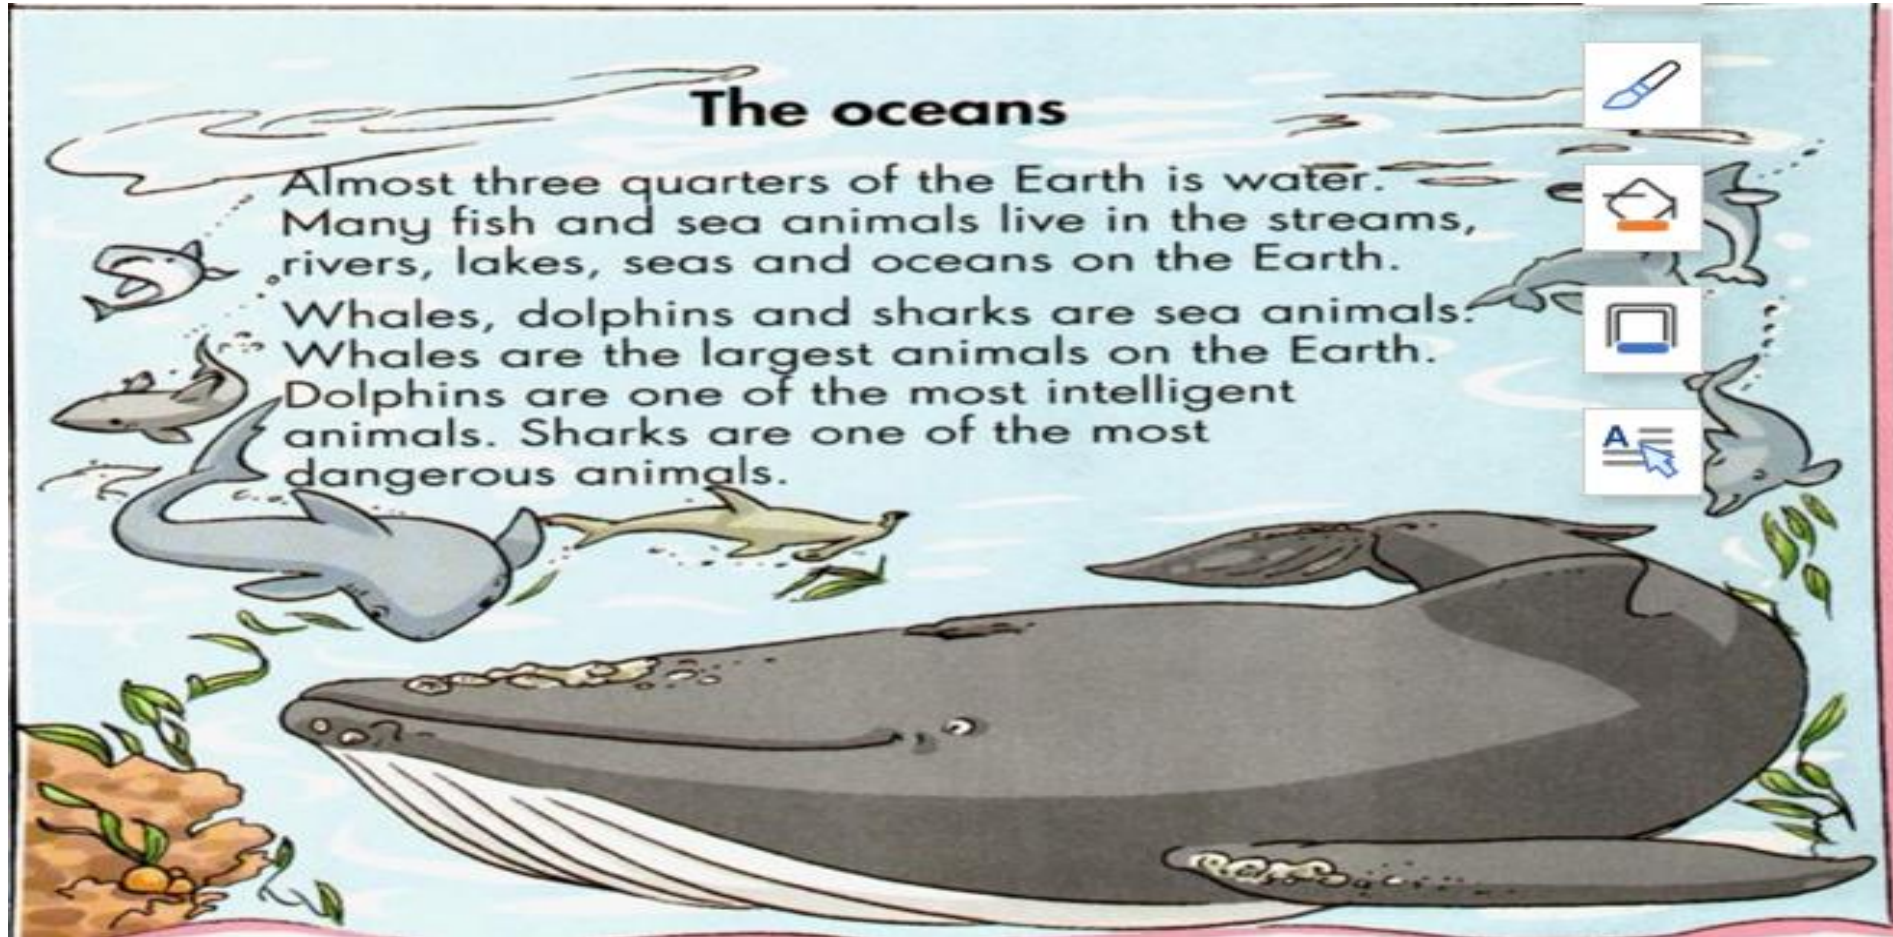

Paris & Helen

The main source for our knowledge of the Trojan War is Homer's Iliad (written sometime in the 8th century BCE) where he recounts 52 days during the final year of the ten-year conflict. The Greeks imagined the war to have occurred some time in the 13th century BCE. The Trojan War, in Greek tradition, started as a way for Zeus to reduce the ever-increasing population of humanity and, more practically, as an expedition to reclaim Helen, wife of Menelaus, King of Sparta and brother of Agamemnon. Helen was abducted by the Trojan prince Paris (also known as Alexandros) and taken as his prize for choosing Aphrodite as the most beautiful goddess in a competition with Athena and Hera at the wedding of Peleus and Thetis. Menelaos and the Greeks wanted her back and to avenge Trojan impudence.

How do you like your school? Have you ever expressed your ideas to your headmaster? Here are some letters of students from different schools.
Like, 14, from Zhangze:
I will give some advice to our headmaster. In our school, we students have to wear school uniform every day. But the yellow and green sports suit looks really lark and old. It can't stand for young and lively spirit. We can add some red or orange color and make a new type of uniform. I hope our headmaster will think about it.
Jenny, 14, from Zhongling:
I have two pieces of advice for my headmaster. First of all, I think we should have several hobby classes, such as piano model making class and computer programming class. It is really boring to study basic subject all the time. And second, I hope we can have more PE lessons or more time for physical exercise. Lots of students here don't have a strong enough body.
Sam, 15, from Shanxi:
I'd like to say thanks to our headmaster. About one week ago, I got a bad cold after having headache. Our headmaster came to me after he knew about it. He took care of

A Letter From Bats

语篇类型: 应用文 词数: 188 难度: 2 级

话题: 人与自然 (植物与动物)

Hey! Human Beings!

We are bats! Many of you are now afraid of us, aren't you? There has been a serious coronavirus (冠状病毒) outbreak (爆发) in China. Many people say the virus comes from us bats. They believe we are the killers! Grrr! We are angry about this!

We bats have lived on Earth for 50 million years. How long have you humans been here? We have developed super immunity (免疫力). In other words, we can live with many viruses. How about you? Let us tell you: Some of these viruses can easily kill you!

Yes, we are very dangerous. We know this, so we try to stay away from you. We look ugly. That's because we want you to hate us. We come out only at night — when most of you are sleeping.

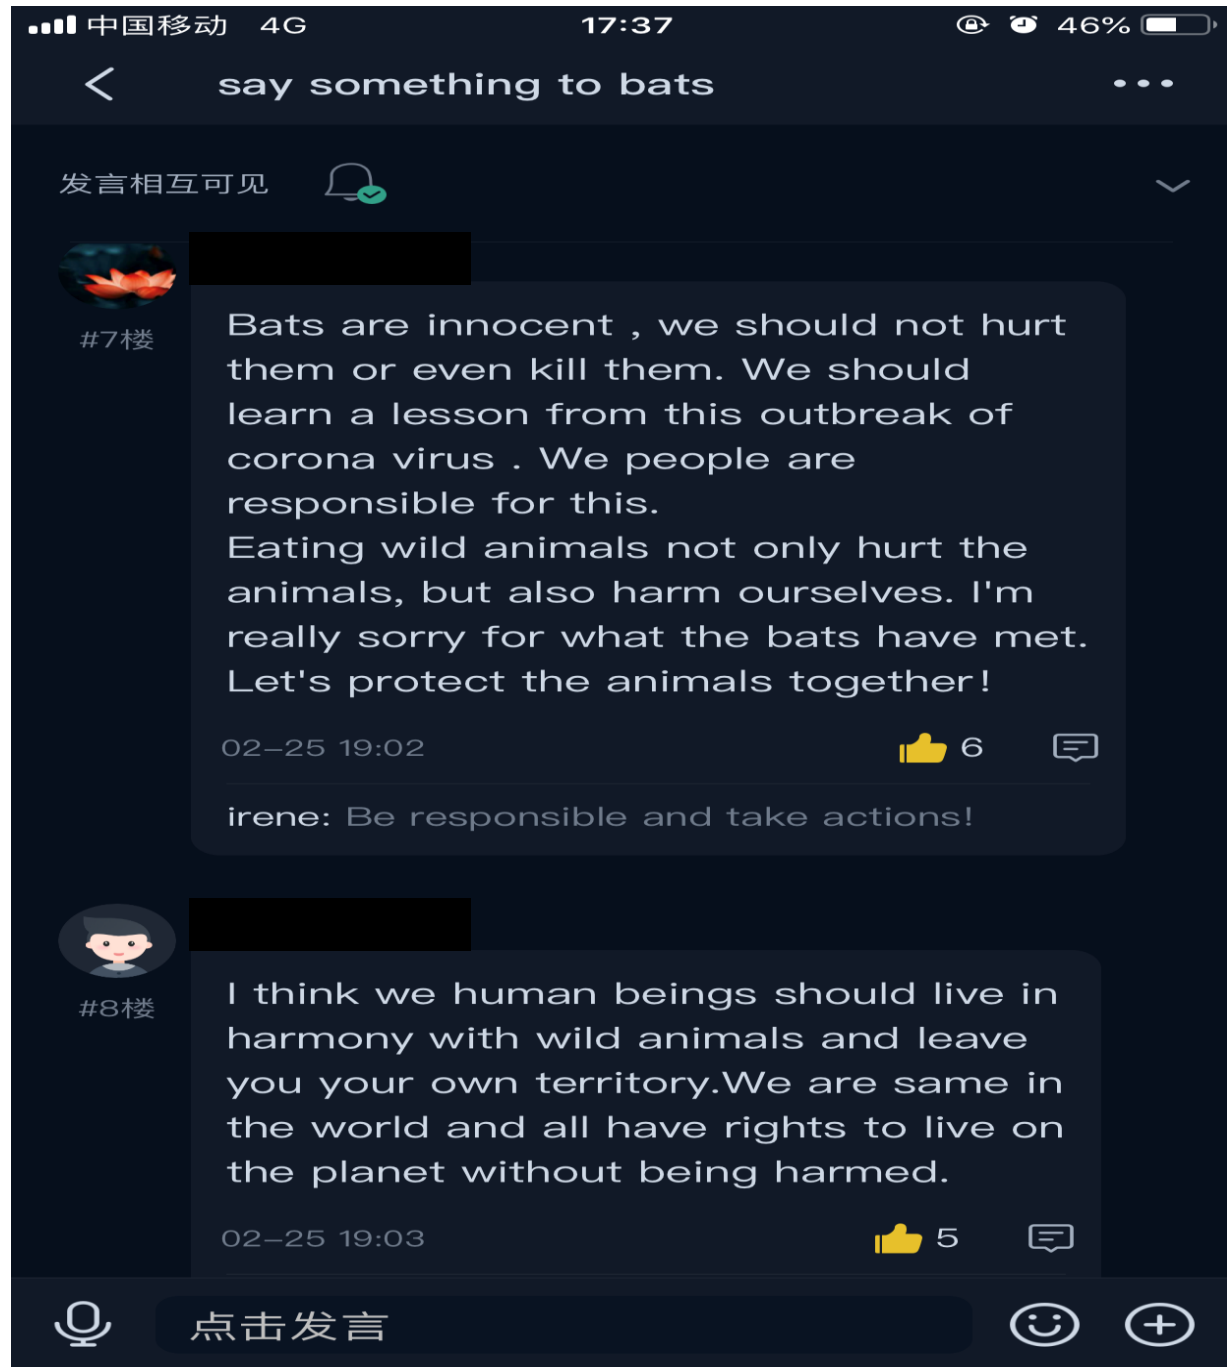

However, some of you have perhaps forgotten how dangerous we are. You have killed our brothers and sisters and eaten their meat. The viruses in the bat meat attacked these people. How foolish they were!

I hope you will learn a lesson from the coronavirus outbreak. Don't eat or touch wild animals! Please!

Best wishes,

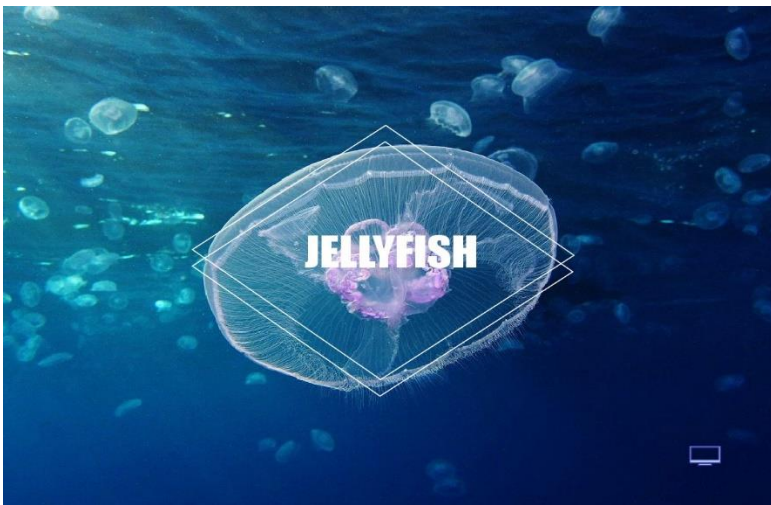

Bats
